

A Downton Abbey Mother's Day at The Palace

“You guys are amazing.”

“What a spread!”

“The food & décor is unbelievable.”

“You all never cease to impress.”

These were just a few of the comments from Palace Family Members who joined their loved ones at The Palace for an extraordinary Downton Abbey-themed Mother's Day Celebration. Greeted by Robert Adrian Crawley, Earl of Grantham and Lady Pamela Parker-Bowes, the guests enjoyed mimosas in the Abbey gardens and entered the Grand Banquet Hall to the sounds of a live string trio. Tables draped with satin, pearls and tea services as the house staff and tuxedo-clad butlers served the guests a delectable feast.

We hope your Mother's Day was as smashing as ours.
